TODAY'S READINGS

First Reading – Exodus 34:4B-6, 8-9: God passes before Moses and proclaims His name, stating that He is abounding in steadfast love and faithfulness. Moses responds by bowing down and worshipping God.

Responsorial Psalm – Daniel 3:52, 53, 54, 55, 56: Glory and praise for ever! A hymn of praise to God, acknowledging His greatness and glory; His throne and reign over all creation.

Second Reading – 2 Corinthians 13:11-13: In the conclusion of Paul's second letter to the Corinthians, he encourages them to aim for restoration, unity, and peace.

Gospel – John 3:16-18: Jesus tells Nicodemus that God loved the world so much that He gave His only Son, so that whoever believes in Him shall not perish but have eternal life, and that those who do not believe will face consequences, as they are missing out on the opportunity to experience God's love and salvation.

Mystery and Unity

As a Catholic, the doctrine of the Holy Trinity is one of the foundational teachings that shapes my understanding of God. At the core of this doctrine is the recognition that God exists eternally in three persons: the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit. This unity of the Godhead is something that we cannot fully comprehend with our finite human minds, but it is a mystery that we must accept and embrace as essential to our faith.

One of the most striking aspects of the Holy Trinity is the unity that exists between the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit. Despite being distinct persons, they are united in their nature and purpose. This unity is not something that is forced or artificial, but rather it flows naturally from the perfect love that exists within the Godhead.

As Catholics, we are called to reflect this same unity in our own lives. Just as the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit are united in love, we are called to love one another and to work together in unity for the sake of the Gospel. This means setting aside our own individual interests and desires in order to serve the greater good of the Church and the world.

be with all of you. 2 Corinthians 13:13*
